MUSIC ROOM
from Bushfire Press

Thank you for purchasing your Music Room ePublication

Some of the resources you have purchased are ePub files.
ePubs are media rich resources that allow us to embed audio and video into our books or slide presentations.

Please save these files in a safe place on your computer.

- We recommend making a "Music Room" folder in your “Documents" folder and keeping them there. But of course, it is up to you where you keep them.
- It may also be worthwhile saving copies to a labelled USB stick as backup in case you lose track of the files or change computers.

How do I read my ePubs?

You will also find instructions on how to read these files on our FAQ pages
https://www.bushfirepress.com.au/faqs/faqs-frequently-asked-questions-books_ade/

The files are yours to keep - no more logins; no more subscriptions.
These downloads will only be available for a short time, so please make sure you download them as soon as possible and save them to that special place on your computer.

Problems?

If you are having difficulties with downloading the files, your school may be blocking downloads. If this is the case, please see your local technician
Any domain with bushfirepress needs to be unblocked for downloads.
- or download at home.
You will find information about how to save and read this ePub in our FAQs at
https://www.bushfirepress.com.au/faqs/faqs-frequently-asked-questions-books_ade/

Please let us know if you still have any difficulties.

Some fine print:
Just a reminder that these files are tagged with your personal details.
The publications are protected under the Australian Copyright Act, the International Berne Convention on Copyright and APRA/AMCOS and its international affiliates.

Any unauthorised use, including, but not limited to, sharing, disassembling, uploading or duplication is strictly prohibited.